cocktails

Our cocktails are inspired by some of London's most iconic landmarks. How many can you spot from our rooftop?

the belfast

13.00

coconut-infused Bacardi Superior | lemon | simple syrup | avocado oil

HMS Belfast was a Royal Navy town-class light cruiser. Today it's a museum ship on the River Thames. Keep your pirate spirit alive with this rum-filled glass and toast the wild swashbucklers who came before us!

the heron

13.00

XECO Fino Sherry | Disaronno | lemon juice | Dry Dragon Real Kombucha

The Heron Tower is the third largest building in London (and one of the city's most eco-friendly). Not entirely coincidentally, this cocktail is served in our third tallest glass.

st paul's

13.00

Glenmorangie 10 year | XECO Fino Sherry | fig syrup | Fee Brothers Black Walnut Bitters

Since 604 AD, four different churches stood in the same spot as St Paul's. This classic drink with a modern twist (and four ingredients) is a nod to the rich history of fires, weddings, royal birthdays and new beginnings these churches witnessed.

the eye

14.00

Hennessy VS | Calvados | Lejay Apricot Brandy | XECO Manzanilla Sherry | lime juice | pineapple juice | orgeat | OTO CBD Bitters

Built in 1998 to celebrate the new millennium, the London Eye was assembled from parts sourced all over Europe – just like this cocktail! Enjoy it slowly while admiring our amazing views of London.

isle of dogs

13.50

Belvedere Vodka | Galliano L'Autentico | lime juice | fresh ginger | ginger ale | apple juice

To the east is a cluster of tall skyscrapers. That's Canary Wharf – the largest financial centre in Europe. Even if you don't find finance exciting, you'll love this fiery, zingy drink served in a coupe.

tantalus torment

13.00

basil-infused Bombay Sapphire | raspberry | lemongrass syrup | lemon juice | egg whites

You probably already guessed this drink celebrates the 2012 London Summer Olympics – it's dusted with the Olympic rings and named after Pelops, son of Tantalus, who is said to have inspired the founding of the Games with his chariot racing.

cocktails

nostradamus knew

13.50

peach-infused Grey Goose Vodka | Italicus Rosolio di Bergamotto | lemon juice | prosecco | flamed orange zest

If only they had listened to Nostradamus. He predicted 1666 would be a bad year for London – and it was. A huge fire destroyed a large part of the city. In 1677, The Monument was raised to commemorate the tragedy. This drink has a little bit of fire in it to honour this event in London's history.

salt cellar

13.50

Bacardi Cuatro | vanilla bitters | Angostura Bitters | Taylor's Velvet Falernum | sugar syrup | salted English Breakfast tea mist

The Shard is one of London's iconic landmarks, although not everyone's cup of tea – it is often nicknamed 'the Salt Cellar'. We take a classic cocktail, use modern exotic ingredients and add a touch of traditional English tea for a beautiful blend of history and modernity... just like London.

13.00

lime juice | simple syrup | Regal Rogue Lively White Vermouth | Copper in the Clouds Lychee Gin Liqueur | orange bitters

Hampton Court Palace – currently owned by Queen Elizabeth II – is only one of the two original Tudor palaces in London. It is truly regal and even has the largest grapevine in the world! Here's how you can feel regalicious – walk the walk, talk the talk, drink the drink.

non-alcoholic cocktails

mayor's solstice

8.00

Aecorn Dry | spiced honey | Real Kombucha Smokehouse | Aecorn Aromatic

Directly opposite us on the south bank of the River Thames lies City Hall – the office for the Mayor of London. Our unusual but elegant non-alcoholic aperitif matches the unique design of this building.

king of the road

8.00

raspberry-lemongrass syrup | lime juice | Fever Tree Ginger Beer

Iconic and red, London's double decker buses might just be the best-known symbol of London. The city wouldn't be the same without them. They are the real King of the Road and the best way to enjoy London!

Ask us to add OTO CBD bitters to any cocktail for only 1.20.
